The Sabra and Shatila Refugee Camps Massacres took place between 16 to 18 September 1982. These massacres are considered the bloodiest single atrocity committed against the Palestinian people in living history. According to the International Committee of the Red Cross, more than 2,750 Palestinian men, women and children were massacred in the Sabra and Shatila camps in Beirut while the city was occupied by the Israeli army. The principal war criminal bearing legal responsibility for these massacres is then Israeli Minister of Defense, General Ariel Sharon - the perpetrator of the Kibya Massacre nearly thirty years before. Even Israel's own Kahane Commission could not hide the fact that Ariel Sharon was "personally responsible" for the Sabra and Shatila massacres. Ariel Sharon is Israel's current elected prime minister - and the massacres of Palestinians continue today. Join with us to remember the victims of Sabra and Shatila and continue the struggle for justice for Palestine.
